United Press Staff Correspondent

They urged the House Banking Committee to refer the incident to a subcommittee to conduct an investigation into the matter.

Fort Campbell To Present Program On Armed Forces Day

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky.—What makes the Airborne Airborne at Fort Campbell? The answers will be ready at Fort Campbell's Armed Forces Day, Sunday, May 22, when the 11th Airborne Quartermaster Battalion Maintenance Company opens its entire physical plant for the inspection of the day's visitors.

Parachute Maintenance — what makes the Airborne Airborne, and keeps it that way — is the means to the beginning and the end of all Airborne operations. For without it, the Airborne cannot function. The Airborne Maintenance Company, which performs the myriads of details necessary to the safety and efficiency of a drop, there would be no Airborne, no personnel jumps, no mighty Heavy Drop of weapons and vehicles.

Sheriff Works Fast On School Mrs. Ella Wyman Observes Her 99th Birthday Recently Breakin

L. D. Cudr was arrested on Wednesday about 9:00 o'clock in the morning according to Sheriff Brigham Futrell, on suspicion of breaking into Almo High School. On questioning, Sheriff Futrell said that Cudr admitted breaking into the school and stealing two phonograph machines.

Cudr was refused bail by County Judge Wayne Rayburn on advice of County Attorney Robert O. Miller since Cudr is already under two indictments.

He is located in the county jail. The break-in was not reported to the Sheriff's office and Sheriff Futrell did not hear about it until about 8:00 o'clock Wednesday morning. By 9:00 o'clock the culprit had been apprehended and the phonographs recovered.

Sheriff Futrell and Deputy Cohen Stubblefield worked on the case. The Sheriff's office worked fast too on a forgery case involving Cudr. He was picked up and incarcerated within an hour after passing a check on Robert Swann.

Galveston Mayor To "Clean Up" Gambling In Town

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Galveston's new mayor, elected on a promise of a "clean but liberal town," said today he will call a meeting soon of all gambling operators to find out how "the boys" think this coastal resort should be run.

George Roy Clough, a tall, dignified man of 64 who owns a radio station and was elected mayor Saturday over an incumbent who campaigned for a "100 per cent open town," expressed his own views on city government.

On gambling illegal in Texas: "Well, I'll have to ask the boys what they want. Whatever they want will be all right with me, I think."

On gambling on Sunday: "I don't know how the boys feel about that, but I'm not against it. If the ministers don't like it, they can file a complaint with the county attorney, if they have the courage."

On prostitution: "I am in favor of these boys continuing to operate in an orderly manner with a clean establishment. What do I mean by clean? Keep the chippies, juveniles out of the place. Don't handle dope in any way, shape or form. No showing of lewd sex movies, such as are being shown in a number of establishments here. This contributes not only to juvenile but to adult delinquency."

Prostitutes, he said, "should be put into a district where they can be recognized for what they are. The situation now is that they are in all the cheap hotels and they have call girls in the presidential areas."

On the possibility of raids by Texas Rangers, who take a dim view on gambling, prostitution and liquor by the drink: "That's not my affair. If there are complaints they should be taken to the county attorney."

But Clough said he would not tolerate slot machines, where possession of which is a felony offense in Texas.

"I don't approve of slot machines," he said. "Most of them are fixed so they don't pay off anything."

Generally, however, he said, you can have gambling and prostitution and still have a clean town."

Galveston, a city of about 70,000 population, is located on an island in the Gulf of Mexico just off the Texas mainland. There is just one entrance to Galveston, over a long causeway. The city has for many years been referred to in some quarters as the "free state of Galveston."

Phone Strike In Sixtieth Day

ATLANTA (AP)—Picketline fights and angry charges arising from a shooting today clouded hope of settling the nine-state Southern Bell Telephone Co. strike now in its 60th day.

AFL rail workers manned their jobs with the Louisville & Nashville Railroad after ending the South's other major walkout Wednesday.

Workers of America strike against Southern Bell remained in a stalemate seemingly made more hopeless by bitterness over a new flareup of violence.

The CWA accused Southern Bell of instigating the critical gunshots wounding of a striker at Pensacola, Fla., by using armed "strike breakers."

Southern Bell called the charge "an offense to anyone with any knowledge of the facts" and accused the CWA of trying "to capitalize on a tragic incident" to "advance its own cause."

The shooting and critical wounding of striking cable splicer Cecil Bragg at Pensacola resulted in the arrest of a company employee on assault charges.

A fight which broke out in Pensacola in an aftermath of the shooting resulted in three more arrests at Pensacola and in still another incident at Gatlinburg, Tenn., two strikers were arrested after a fight with police.

A non-striker, Harold Slaughter, was charged with shooting Bragg. The company claimed he was attacked by several strikers.

The national salutes its hospitals during National Hospital Week, May 8 to May 14.

Livingstone Officials Endorse Two

The elected officials of Livingston County have endorsed Judge H. H. Lovett, Sr. for the office of Circuit Judge and James M. Lassiter for the office of Commonwealth Attorney.

Both Mr. Lovett and Mr. Lassiter now hold those offices.

The two resolutions passed and signed by the officials highly lauded the two men. Judge Lovett "has presided in a most efficient manner and has thoroughly proved to the undersigned that he is eminently qualified and an excellent jurist," the resolution said.

Of Lassiter the resolution said that he "has served as Commonwealth Attorney in a most impartial and efficient manner."

Both resolutions heartily endorsed the two candidates.

Those signing the two resolutions included Eulen Ramage, County Judge of Livingston County; Rodrick Kenney, County Attorney; Gabe McCandless, County Clerk; Rebar Smith, Circuit Clerk; L. M. Gardner, Probation and Parole Officer; Barkley Walker, School Superintendent; Mrs. Mamie Y. Ferguson, secretary to the board of education; G. W. Hosick, Jailor; E. E. Cook, former County Judge; and H. H. Fleming, Jr. Deputy Sheriff.

The Judicial District which Judge Lovett and Lassiter represent is composed of Calloway, Marshall and Livingston counties.

DO OUTSIDE PAINTING

Normally a well painted house will last for the job need re-painting more often than once in four to six years. Painting too often may result in an unnecessarily thick coat that may crack or peel.
Check the condition of the paint. Dirty paint may be scrubbed with a brush and a mild detergent, then rinsed with a garden hose.
If painting is needed, check first to see if wood parts need to be replaced, repaired, or re-nailed. Then, check all cracks or loose knots and repair with a good wood filler and knot sealer.

Where old paint has cracked or peeled, scrape and sand the house material. Brush the surface clean after filling and sanding. Coat sanded areas with primer.
The craftsman will need ladders for scaffolding for over-two stories; drop cloths, rags, paint thinner, screening, extra pails for mixing, stirring paddles, scrapers and sandpaper.
Brushes 4 1/2 to 5 inches wide are used for large surfaces; and 1 1/2 to 2-inch brushes for trim. Use sash brushes around windows.
For new wood surfaces use a primer first. For old surfaces primers are not necessary except on scraped and sanded areas. See your local building department.

JAPANESE IN 'SUICIDE' PROTEST IN BRAZIL

BRAZIL SOLDIERS armed with submachine guns (right) guard members of the Japanese "suicide battalion" near Sao Paulo as the immigrant agricultural workers went into a hunger strike "to death" in the settlement Vila Flumina. In another incident (left) a Japanese woman is hustled to a police van. The Japanese went there as immigrant farm workers. After many months they said they wished to return home, but the Brazilian government allegedly refuses to let them. After a futile appeal to the Japanese consulate in Sao Paulo, the "suicide battalion" was formed by the protesting Japanese. (International Soundphotos)

A-BOMB DISINTEGRATES DOOM TOWN BRICK HOUSE

THIS IS WHAT happened to a two-story brick house in Doom Town in the Nevada desert when an A-bomb blew up as powerful as the one which flattened Hiroshima was exploded seven-eighths of a mile away. An automatic AEC sequence camera recorded these photos. (International Soundphotos)

ATOMIC HAVOC AT DOOM TOWN

CIVIL DEFENSE workers put on a rescue demonstration at the scene of the latest atomic test in the Nevada desert. They are shown carrying a "casualty" from the rubble of Doom Town, located 4,750 feet from ground zero. In the background is the wreckage of a two-story brick house which was destroyed by the blast. Mannequins were used to simulate real persons living in typical American homes. At bottom, canned and packaged foods, placed in one of the homes, is examined by Miss Dorothy Beves, Red Cross food and nutrition consultant. Most of the food was knocked off the shelves and strewn on the floor by the blast. The contents of the packages were undamaged.

May 8 to May 14 is National Hospital Week. During this week the attention of the nation is focused on the institutions in which one out of every eight of us will receive care in 1955. The doors of our hospitals are never closed. They always stand open to take in the injured and ill when help is needed. Our hospitals have a fine tradition of service. Visit Murray Hospital during Open House on Sunday May 15 from 2 to 4:30 P. M. and learn more about how your hospital stands on guard for you.

The nation's hospitals are sponsoring National Hospital Week from May 8 to May 14. National Hospital Week focuses our attention on Hospitals' long established tradition of community service. This is also the silver anniversary of the Blue Cross idea of prepayment for hospital care. Blue Cross has made it possible for more than 47 million people to budget the cost of hospital care. Blue Cross is an important part of hospitals' tradition of service.

WHY SOUTHERN BELL CANNOT SURRENDER TO AN ARBITRATOR ITS RESPONSIBILITY FOR A VITAL PUBLIC SERVICE

For weeks now, officials of the CWA union have been maneuvering to get the issues in the telephone strike turned over to an arbitrator for settlement.

There should be no misunderstanding about what this kind of settlement would mean.

It would mean that a third party would be called in to write a whole new union-management contract—a contract that involves every aspect of this business.

His decisions would be final and Southern Bell would be committed, in advance, to accept them, regardless of their effect on the cost and quality of telephone service—and the job security and job opportunities of telephone employees.

We are not willing to subject this vital public service to so grave a risk.

In the telephone strike, arbitration of the whole dispute, undoubtedly, would create more problems than it would solve.

PROPERLY APPLIED, ARBITRATION IS OFTEN A USEFUL TOOL

It has had an important place in our relations with the union for many years. In current bargaining, we have offered to expand its use as a means of settling differences that arise under the new contract once it is signed.

In fact, practically every provision of the new contract proposed by the company is subject to arbitration.

Let there be no misunderstanding then about Southern Bell's position on the principle of arbitration.

On the other hand, arbitration can be taken to extremes. When it is proposed, for instance, as a means for settling fundamental company policy matters—such as a whole new labor contract—it undermines the effective management of the business. It also invites serious risks that could do great harm to the financial integrity of the business.

The basic principle involved is that Southern Bell, which is charged with the sole responsibility for telephone communications in the area it serves, cannot surrender that responsibility to others.

Our obligation for service under the law cannot be delegated.

In the telephone strike, arbitration would be just another form of compromise. The real issue at stake is the no-strike clause to assure continuous service to the public while the new contract is in effect. Certainly the public's right to continuous service should not be subject to compromise.

THREE QUARTERS OF CENTURY OF SERVICE TO THE SOUTH

Southern Bell has been privileged to serve the South for 75 years. It does not take lightly its responsibility for providing this necessary service.

The company pays good wages and in current bargaining has offered to make them better. The telephone pension and benefit plan long has been a model for other companies. It has been in effect since 1913.

Working conditions are second to none in all industry. We have offered many improvements in our labor contract and have accepted many union proposals.

Including all the changes we have proposed, the cost of providing telephone service would be increased by more than $7,000,000 a year under the new contract.

We are willing to guarantee these wages and working conditions. In return, all we ask of union leaders is that they accept their responsibility for agreeing to protect the public against quickie strikes for the life of the contract.

This they refuse to do on any reasonable basis. They say in effect, "We will take all you have offered and then we want an arbitrator to come in and decide how much more we can get." It is this attitude that is prolonging the strike.

BUILT FROM THE INSIDE OUT best describes this new "living conditioned" home designed for the South. Unlike ordinary houses, advanced Southern home has sturdy utility strip down center that supports entire roof. Outside walls carry no weight and can be glass or inexpensive wood panels. Looking out from inside house, roof seems to "float," giving light uncramped effect. Downlights under outside eaves illuminate rooms at night, giving a fourth dimension into lawn and private terraces. Rough blue building blocks in utility strip give interesting contrast in texture and color.

Developed from $1,000,000 research with new building methods, Southern home offers many luxury comforts without a high cost. Most-wanted features include: three bedrooms, two baths, family room, fireplace and large kitchen-laundry with snack bar. Special "conditioning" features give extra privacy, improved lighting, better sound and temperature control and greater safety. Southern home is one of four prize models in Hotpoint's Golden Anniversary Celebration this year. Over 130 anniversary homes sponsored by local builders and a leading national magazine, are now being constructed in 48 states for public inspection this Spring and Summer.

Cruets Stage
Comeback On Modern Table

The old adage that "history repeats itself" is apparently gaining new proof, thanks to the cruet.

Many young housewives have probably never seen a cruet or perhaps, even heard the word. But according to culinary experts, it will soon be a familiar name and welcome sight in every household. For those who don't remember, a cruet is a small pear-shaped glass bottle filled with vinegar. A few years ago, it was as much a part of grandmother's table setting as the salt and pepper shakers. But gradually it disappeared. Now homemakers are discovering anew that a cruet of vinegar on the table, not only adds an extra touch of graciousness, but also adds a great deal of flavor to many foods. A few drops of vinegar on greens, for instance, will often make a youngster clean the spinach from his plate. The new vogue for mixing salad dressings at the table has also added impetus to the cruet comeback.

Confirmation of this new trend comes from S. F. Klerner, vice-president of the Spea Company, world's largest manufacturers of Pure Apple Cider Vinegar. "The sudden upsurge in cruet popularity has posed a few problems," Mr. Klerner states. "Demand for them has virtually exhausted the supply in some areas, and since few of them have been manufactured in recent years, new ones are still in short supply. As a result, many women are turning to antique shops, where they are buying up the same old crystal cruets and 'cater' sets that grandmothers used on their own tables."

TVA
Newsletter

Rainfall in April throughout the Tennessee Valley continued substantially above normal. The average fall of 6.43 inches, TVA said today. This was 124 percent of the 65-year average for the month of 4.38 inches.

The area west of Chattanooga fared better than the eastern section, with 6.15 inches, or 130 percent of the long range average of 4.73. East of that city the April rainfall totaled 4.71 inches, or 116 percent of the long range average of 4.07 inches.

The first four months of 1955 yielded 22.24 inches, or 2.83 inches more than the long range average of 19.41 inches.

The section of the Valley in the vicinity of Chickamauga Dam and Chattanooga received about 8 inches of rain during the month, more than was reported from any other station. Driest spot was Cherokee Dam, with 2.19 inches.

Although there was a record number of drownings in lakes of the Tennessee and Cumberland Rivers during 1954-'73, there is reason to hope that those using the lakes for recreation are becoming safety conscious. Dr. E. Nolting, assistant chief of TVA's Safety Branch, told the Fifth Annual Tennessee and Cumberland Valleys Water Safety Congress this week, meeting in Florence, Alabama.

"While there has been an average of 60 drownings a year during the past eight years on the two chains of lakes, the number of boats on TVA lakes alone increased from about 10,000 to more than 31,000 in that 8-year period," he said. "In other words, the frequency rate of drownings per 1,000 boats is steadily decreasing."

The Congress is composed of individuals and organizations interested in promoting water safety. Dr. Leland G. Allbaugh, director of TVA's Agricultural Relations Division, announced today that a symposium on Fertilizer Economics Research will be held in Knoxville June 14-16. Outstanding farm economists, agronomists, and statisticians will present and discuss papers dealing with various aspects of this kind of research which concerns itself with the economic value of various fertilizer materials to the farmer.

Among the participants will be: Dr. Earl O. Heady, Iowa State College; Dr. Glenn Johnson, Michigan State College; Dr. Clifford Hildreth, North Carolina State College; Professor Frank F. Bell and W. L. Parks of the University of Tennessee. Other speakers will come from the University of Illinois, Purdue University, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Farmers all over the world are turning to chemical fertilizers to increase their farm output and income," Dr. Allbaugh said. "In the United States fertilizer consumption in 1950 was three and one-half times as great as in 1925. Experts predict that fertilizer consumption will more than double again by 1975."

"This increased use of fertilizers gives rise to many new needs for research. TVA carries on research on chemical, agronomic, and economic aspects of fertilizer production and use. In addition, it sponsors programs of educational work. TVA's programs of research and education are aiding in lowering the costs of fertilizers to farmers and in teaching farmers to use fertilizers efficiently. The forthcoming symposium is a part of TVA's work on fertilizer economics problems."

TVA said that research workers from many states are expected to attend the conference to learn the latest techniques or such economic studies.

Plans Made By Farmers For FHA Loans

Farm families who are buying, improving, or enlarging their farms with Federal Housing Administration loans have completed making plans for the 1955 farming season, Raymont C. Hogue, County Supervisor, said today.

He said the families made their 1955 plans after visiting the county Farmers Home Administration office and carefully analyzing last year's operations on the basis of farm and home records they had kept through the past year. The records enabled them to compare what they had done with what they had planned to do a year ago.

Whenever a family receives a supervised loan from the Farmers Home Administration—that is, a loan accompanied by on-the-farm management aid service—the county supervisor gives them a simple but complete farm and home record book to use in connection with their farming. The farm management service also includes helping the family work out farm operating plans that will use their land and family labor to best advantage. It encourages such practices as soil tests, use of fertilizer, water development and use, proper drainage, seed selection, timely marketing, approved livestock and breeding practices, and other measures that tend to make farming more efficient.

The farm and home record book is set up to show what the family spends for family living and farm operating; what the earnings come from; what losses they had and for what reasons; and in many ways helps the family know how the farm business stands financially.

In the front of the book is a place to set down the farm and home plan for the year ahead. The plan itself has a place for a financial statement and places to put down what the family expects to do about crops, pastures, livestock and products, farm improvements and practices, family living, home improvements, and debt repayments. This plan is filled out at the start of the year, then throughout the year the actual expenses, earnings, operations and other entries are put down in the record book.

Each family is encouraged to bring its plan and record book to the county Farmers Home Administration office for analysis at the end of the year. The county supervisor and the farmer and his wife go over them thoroughly, and use last year's results as a basis for making next year's plans. Most of the year-end analyses in Calloway County were completed in January and February and March.

The Farmers Home Administration bases its loans on farming as a business requiring records or simple bookkeeping for successful operation. The county supervisor visits the farms and homes as often as necessary to advise with the families on matters pertaining to efficient farming. He gives whatever management aid is necessary when he calls at the farms or when the families call at the county office.

The families are requested to refinance the Farmers Home Administration loans as soon as they are able to go to bank or cooperative lender for the financing they need. Most of them continue the farm records and plans after they pay off their Farmers Home Administration loans. Bankers often report that the good business habits developed while working with county supervisors are valuable both to the families and the banks after graduation to commercial credit.

What is a hospital? It is a team of doctors, nurses, technicians, carpenters, housekeepers, volunteers and many others. It is a restaurant providing food for special needs. It is a laboratory. It is a standby power plant. It is these things—and many others too—24 hours a day year in and year out. Its doors are never closed. Hospitals are part of our great tradition of community service. May 14 to May 14 is National Hospital Week. Hospitals throughout the country are opening their doors and asking you to pay a visit and learn more about the institution in which one out of every eight of us receives care each year. Why not visit Murray Hospital during Open House on Sunday May 15 from 2 to 4:30 P. M. See for yourself the modern facilities that are for your family's protection.
